

MEANS END OF WARFARE; JOINT APPEAL LIKELY

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)

KATTOWITZ (Upper Silesia) Aug. 17.—Co-operation in the interest of the common motherland was pledged in an agreement signed here today by representative German industrial and political leaders and labor representatives from all Polish parties in Silesia. The agreement was reached at the end of a secret conference lasting twelve hours.

Belief is expressed that the conference may result in a joint appeal by Germans and Poles to the League of Nations for a prompt settlement of the Silesian question. It also is stated that if such a request is made the petitioners probably will ask for an undivided Silesia, all for Poland or all for Germany. Both the Tabor-Alied Committee in Silesia and the Berlin government are said to have known that today's conference was contemplated.

but no attempt was made at interference. Immediately after the meeting Johannes Lukatsch, one of the most powerful German leaders in Sillesia, went to Oppeln, where he reported to Gen. Henniker, the British commander, at a specially arranged meeting.

During the conference between the Germans and Poles a discussion took place which aimed at reaching a solution which would protect either side against loss of their interests if Sillesia should be awarded to either Germany or to Poland.

POLES KILLED IN CLASH.

ST. CABLES AND ASSOCIATED PRESS
BERLIN, Aug. 17.—Twenty-four Polish soldiers were killed today in a fight between Germans and regular Polish troops near the frontiers of Poland, near Stargard, Kostrzyn, in Upper Silesia. The Germans drove the Poles across the river.

Four signers of the agreement are members of the German Reichstag. The Poles who were killed were Wolney, right-hand man of Elbert Koranyi, chief Polish leader in the underground movement, and a prominent labor chief. Janiel Krowczyki, Polish Consul-General at London, declared.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—The majority is gaining ground in its conviction that the soviet appeal for a "united front" is nothing more than a less than honorable device to bring about a truce. In the face of the altogether terrible distress of Russian military and civilian life, the soviet authorities have been bargaining for nearly a month with Walter L. Brown, agent of the American Red Cross, for permission at Moscow to allow the Red Cross to enter the country.

Regarding the international situation, which the Hoover relief organization still operates.

In consequence administration of the country from the President down are gradually being transformed into a dictatorship, and the soviet is again playing politics instead of honestly representing the interests of the Polish people and the sentiments of this country.

In response to an appeal for aid from the Polish government, the United Russian author, Secretary Hoover on July 24 offered to furnish 100,000 dollars in medical supplies for 3,000,000 children.

American offer made on behalf of the Polish people by the American relief administration was not based on sentimentalism on certain assurances from work in mines, factories and on railways is proceeding normally, except in isolated instances in the Poles and Lithuanian districts.

FEW IDLE WORKMEN.

There are few idle workmen. The only evidence of the recent uprising is in the towns where the Russian, Polish and German signs hanging beside others which were repainted in the colors of the Russian flag.

The milk shortage caused by very heavy slaughter of cattle during the war is being met by Russian and Red organizations which are shipping in large quantities of condensed milk.

HELD NO JOKER.

There was no "joker" in the American card game they played. They were practically identical with the previously accepted by twenty-three of the European countries in whose territories the relief administration has operated. They merely differed in the fact that the projected relief from the political forces at work in Russia, and the American relief agents will engage in political activities.

The workmen in a number of mines are strongly organized. German directors of the mines are said to be permitted to enter them only after securing passes from the union.

Moscow informally accepted Sovietist terms for Hoover's conditions. Some American officials like reservations as to counter-conditions.

Some of the conditions of the Sovietist side of which would have given Soviet officials control of the operations of American relief measures. Secretary Hoover had insisted in his offer:

"That American representatives of the relief administration shall be given full liberty to come and go and move about at will."

"That the relief administration must have assurances of the non-interference of the Soviet government with the liberty of all of its members."

INSIST ON SEARCH.

In recent exchanges between Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet agent, and American representatives of the relief administration, the foregoing question was definitely determined as an attempt to invade the sovereignty of Russia. The soviet has insisted, moreover, on rights of search and seizures, the right to rest American agents without reward and the relief administration, and to similarly expel American agents at will and the power to demand the release in which relief is to be extended.

Secretary Hoover has, of course,

DISCORD AMONG ALASKA'S CREW.

Witnesses Declare Union Men Held Aloof on Ship.

Officers of Wrecked Vessel Praised and Blamed.

Boatswain Only One to Give Orders, Says Seaman.

(BY A. P. NEWS WIRE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Union and nonunion members of the crew on the steamer Alaska, which was wrecked off Blunt's Reef, near Eureka, on Saturday, August 6, held aloof from each other, and no officers could be found in the boat-deck immediately after the ship struck, according to testimony today at a trial by Federal inspectors, of four of the executive officers of the ship. They are charged with negligence and unskillful seamanship.

Frank Frazier, Alameda, a seaman, expressed the opinion that more lives should have been saved. The only officers he saw after the ship struck, he said, were Capt. Hobey, boatswain Fred Helmer and Fourth Officer M. J. Albion. The boatswain, he said, was the only one to give him orders regarding the lowering of the life boats.

CHARGES DENIED.
Harry De May, Martinez, Cal., a sailor, denied charges made in the trial yesterday that certain members of the Alaska's crew, after arriving on the Ancho, refused to put out after more survivors unless they were paid for it.

The hearing will be continued tomorrow.
John Travers West of San Francisco and Leo Croll of Portland, Or., quartermasters aboard the steamer, praised the conduct of the ship's officers.

West said he had been three weeks aboard the Alaska and had served an enlistment in the Navy. There had been one fire drill aboard the vessel on her trip down the coast, he said. When the crash came West reported to boatswain Fred Helmer and found all officers on the job. He heard no sounds of revelry from the officers' quarters.

All the boats were fully equipped, he added.
KEEPING LOOKOUT.
Croll was in the forecastle head when the boat struck, sent there to keep a lookout. The Alaska was making about thirteen or fourteen knots, he testified, when she went aground. He had been getting for signals from along the coast.

When the Alaska struck, Croll met boatswain Helmer, who told him there was no danger. Croll let down one boat with a lone woman passenger aboard. The fall rope on which he was working jammed and the boat tipped and first Croll managed to get the boat into the water, he said, and then slid down the fall to see if it was all right and found but one woman in it. Later the third mate reached this boat and passengers on the deck were told to jump overboard and they would be rescued by the craft. The passengers did this until twenty-one or twenty-two had been taken aboard the lifeboat.

MASTER WAS LOST.
The officers on trial are: W. E. McClintock, first officer; E. Dupree, second officer; J. P. Heikila, third officer, and M. J. Albion, fourth officer. Capt. Harry Hobey, the master, was lost.

Women at first were reluctant to board the Alaska lifeboats, Michael Sutz, Portland, Or., also a quartermaster, testified.
Sutz, at his boat station, sang out: "Women and children first," but while several men boarded the boat the women would not get in until further urged.

While the trial of the Alaska's officers was in progress before Federal authorities, an inquest was being held here over the bodies of several persons who died in the wreck. It was before T. B. W. Leland, Coroner of San Francisco county.

Fred Helmer, boatswain of the Alaska, told the Coroner's jury there were only six competent seamen aboard the boat. He had built the Alaska on July 1, he said, because the crew was incompetent and had gone back to work under promise of a better crew.

SMUGGLED JAPANESE STORY PUNCTURED.
GOVERNMENT RUNS DOWN YARN ABOUT NIPPONESE BEING BROUGHT IN.

(REUTERS DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 17.—One of the finest Japanese scares that has ever arrived from California was punctured in short order by the administration. Some days ago telegrams of startling intensity were received from Sacramento and other California points advising that a colonial plot to all the United States with Japanese labor was being executed with Cuba as a pivotal point. The circumstantial account given in the telegrams said that the Japs were started from Cuba and smuggled into the United States at points in Florida and other southern cities and were then brought north by trains and systematically distributed in the larger centers in the Middle West and East. No accurate statement of the numbers said to be brought in under this plan was attempted, but the authors of the information contented themselves with the information that very large numbers were coming in through this underground entrance almost daily.

Government agents began to investigate and special efforts were made by the immigration authorities to get trace of this plot. After many days of careful investigation the only trace of anything on which to base the story was the movement of a number of Chinese workmen who have been in Cuba assisting in the crop harvesting and they were being taken back to China overland across the United States in bond and under heavy guard. Thus another sensation was punctured.

Bond Issue to Help Farmers.
CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—A bond issue of $30,000,000 at 5 1/2 per cent will be issued at once as a result of action taken here at a meeting of the American Association of Joint Stock Land Banks yesterday. This issue will offer to be floated before December 1, will make a total of about $150,000,000 loaned to farmers by banks this year, officers of the association said. Guy Hunsdon, Chicago, was elected president.

Paul Whiteman's Orchestra Uses Conn Saxophones, the Steinway Piano, Orpheum Tenor Banjos and Makes Victor Records—We Handle all of Them!

This well-known orchestra, which is composed almost entirely of Los Angeles musicians, has taken New York by storm. Over a year ago, after a most successful season at the Alexandria Hotel, they went to New York, where they immediately stepped into popular favor. Today it is one of the most famous dance orchestras in the country.

The Conn Melody "C" Saxophone may be purchased on liberal terms of time payments. It is priced at—$166²⁵

The mere fact that Whiteman's Orchestra uses Conn Saxophones is another tribute to the sterling tonal qualities of this celebrated instrument. These Conn Saxophones have contributed considerably to the success of the orchestra. The Steinway Piano is used whenever obtainable, by this popular orchestra. Pingatore, considered by many as one of the greatest banjoints in the country, and a member of Whiteman's orchestra, uses and endorses the Orpheum Tenor Banjo. Whiteman's Victor Dance Records are some of the greatest "hits" ever made by the Victor Company. We are indeed proud to represent these instruments and the Victor Records—you'll find them here in all models and types—at regular prices. The demand for Conn Melody "C" Saxophones is always far in excess to the supply, so we suggest a prompt selection. A recently-received shipment makes immediate deliveries possible.

We will arrange a course of Saxophone lessons for you, under a competent teacher.

Visiting Bond Expert Says Liquidation in Major Industries Is Fairly Complete; New Researchers.

BY CHAPIN HALL.

Found an interesting personality down in the office of Blyth, Witter & Co. yesterday in the person of Lloyd S. Gilmour, manager of the New York office of the company, who is studying trends here, and who will take back with him to the Atlantic seaboard, a fresher viewpoint of conditions on the Pacific Coast.

It is two years since this observer has been in Los Angeles and during that time he has built up, in New York, a large retail distribution organization, together with a complete trading department with connections to all the principal markets of the country.

While economic conditions generally viewed, he said, have not progressed to the point of creating a demand for the immediate future of business, still the liquidation of numerous basic commodities to prevent levels has been reassuring.

That a gradual resumption of buying will find most corporations manufacturing from raw materials, and that the liquidation of the major industries has been fairly complete, and corporations now operating at from 10 to 40 per cent capacity are probably doing well, before the war, was considered a fairly normal business.

The business of serving the world has caused every one to view operations from a greatly inflated standpoint, which necessarily must be altered to fit the normal demand of this country.

Stocks of goods on hand are not great, and with lowering retail prices a natural stimulus will doubtless be given which should gradually extend business and prosperity.

The general slowing up of trade has released great amounts of credit, until recently needed in the financing of the business boom contemporary with war. The Federal Reserve Bank today, alone, has $1,900,000,000 excess reserves. Interest rates must go lower, and bond prices must necessarily follow the opposite course and seek high levels for the factor of supply and demand will create rule and force interest rates down, as it forced them upward in the time of great demand for capital.

Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange have begun to discount this condition, and a general rise of several points has occurred during the past few months. At the same time the Federal Reserve Bank has several times lowered its rediscount rate. Institutions in New York which have been out of the bond market for several years, on account of the demands placed upon them in financing their customers, have been able to reappear, apparently realizing the unusual opportunity afforded in the purchase of sound investments to yield from 1 to 2 per cent.

Probably in a very short time we will look back on present high interest rates with an eye of scorn for when these changes occur, they often come very rapidly.

NEW RESEARCHERS. The service scope of the Los Angeles banks has been considerably broadened and developed during the past two years, and several of the financial institutions have installed well planned research departments which are proving of very genuine value to customers as well as to the internal economy of the bank itself.

These departments should not be confused with the ordinary publicity bureaus. It is true they disseminate information, but it is of a carefully compiled statistical character that has real value. Some of these organizations are building up departments superior to those maintained by great Eastern contemporaries.

Two additions have recently been made to the research department of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, typical of the service rendered by the engagement of Chester C. Lincoln and C. Edgar Taylor. Mr. Taylor was engaged to assist more especially in the preparation of reports upon economic questions which are brought to this department of the bank for solution. He is a graduate of Colorado College 1914; took the M. A. degree at the University of Wisconsin in Economics in 1917; was instructor in Colorado College, later in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA has recently handed down a decision which is of considerable interest to bankers generally. In 1915 an act was passed by the Legislature providing that "All amounts of money heretofore or hereafter deposited with any bank to the credit of depositors who have not made a deposit on said account or withdrawn any part thereof or the interest, and which shall have remained unclaimed for more than twenty years after the date of such deposit, or withdrawal of any part of principal or interest, and where neither the depositor nor any claimant has filed any notice with such bank showing his or her presence (Continued on Eighth Page.)

Los Angeles Grain Exchange Suspends Board Transactions; Santa Monica Bonds Sell Fast.

The Los Angeles Grain Exchange has voted to suspend all board trading in near-by deliveries of carload grain lots. Trading in the future on the call board will only be conducted in 100-ton lots of future grain deliveries.

This action was taken by the exchange in the belief that the big decline in near-by grain shipments reflected only forced sales and purchases and that a fictitious market was being created. The trading in futures, in August, September, October, December and May shipment contracts, however, is believed to establish a real market, on which growers and brokers can rely.

Operations in on-train, transit, and ten, fifteen, and twenty-day grain shipments will be conducted from now on through the means of table trading and actual samples, and no figures will be posted on the board.

The officials of the Los Angeles exchange have received no intimations from the Chicago Board of Trade regarding the suspension of board trading in near-by grain shipments. Reports from the East, however, quote several leaders of the exchange as asserting that the adoption of the bill in its present form would be disastrous to the market for grain.

One provision which the House eliminated and which Secretary of Agriculture Wallace advised the Senate committee not to include, has been reintroduced by the Senate. It would prohibit operation by privately owned or leased wires by members of grain exchanges to those other than those having grain exchange connections.

Opponents of this provision point to Secretary Wallace's statement that it would be unwise to interfere with the wire service. It is asserted that the country dealer and producer would be placed at a distinct disadvantage as compared with the terminal buyers located at so-called contract markets. It likewise declared that the volume of trade necessary for a broad liquid market would be curtailed and hedging facilities subsequently restricted.

Other changes urged by the grain trade include the right to appeal to the commission of three when the Secretary of Agriculture refuses to designate as a contract market any board of trade that has made proper application. This would make possible a quiet and orderly liquidation of the market.

CALIFORNIA CRUDE. Production of crude oil in California fields averaged 221,252 barrels daily in July, compared with 217,428 barrels in June, according to figures of the Standard Oil Company of California. This falling off is contrasted favorably in view of recent reduction in California oil prices, which indicated an excess of production over consumption.

Oil field operations reported to State Oil and Gas Supervisor R. E. Colburn during the week ending Aug. 12, 1921, show twenty-three new wells started, the same as the previous week. The total new wells this year is 908 as compared with 840 the same date last year.

Tests for water shut-off this week numbered twenty-five, as compared with thirty-one during the previous week. Yearly total to date, 888; total to same date last year, 728.

Deepening or reworking jobs this week numbered eight as compared with seventeen during the preceding week. Total to date this year, 490; total to same date last year, 540.

Wells abandoned this week numbered four, as compared with three during the preceding week. Total to date this year, 141; total to same date last year, 130.

CROP ESTIMATES. August crop estimates for three vegetable and two fruit crops were issued yesterday by the Department of Agriculture. A large falling off in the white potato crop was predicted, while a slight gain in the amount of sweet potatoes over last year was forecast. Onions were said to be 78 per cent of normal this year, and the California crop was estimated to be somewhat better than the average yield in other parts of the country, but still only 80 per cent of normal.

California is the leading peach-producing State, according to the report, growing over a third of the nation's total peach crop. It is the fourth largest apple producer, with an estimated crop this year of 1,160,000 barrels.

MUNICIPALS SELL FAST. Although the new issue of $500,000 Santa Monica city school district 6 per cent bonds were not put on the market until Tuesday morning, the issue is already 85 per cent sold, according to George B. Martin, bond manager Security Trust and Savings Bank, which recently purchased the bonds jointly with Bond & Goodwin & Tucker, and California Company.

"It is not surprising," said Martin, "that this particular issue of municipals should have been absorbed quickly, for there are few municipals, if any, of the more substantial and larger communities of Southern California in the California market at the present time. The investing public, too, is beginning to realize that municipals are like United Eastern, after being ham-

Who Buys Bonds?

A Young Executive

The sales-manager of a well-known San Diego company buys bonds from us. Recently he had a mortgage note to be paid off. Our San Diego manager sent a representative to see him. We offered him one of our issues—General Petroleum Notes.

This executive was very thorough-going. He studied the circular thoroughly as well as an extended analysis prepared by our Statistical Department—and then investigated on his own account.

When he gave us his order, he said that the more he studied this bond, the more convinced he became of its soundness. He remarked also that the advantages of bonds were so preponderant in his favor that there could be no argument.

"The only reason I can see," he said, "why more people don't invest in bonds is simply because they have never investigated the matter."

If you have money available for bonds and are not buying bonds—you are the one that is losing. Better get in touch with us about this and let us tell you about your opportunities.

BEGGED FOR SON'S LIFE.

The train itself was one of the saddest things on wheels. Compared to it is the "Chambers Express" which carries passengers in comfort in which the doughboys traveled over France were palatial. With an American Red Cross man I walked through the second and third-class cars, finding gold.

MEAT MEN FOR ARBITRATION.

Amalgamated Unions to Ask New Wage Scale.

Present Agreement Comes to End September 15.

Will Ask Harding to Act if Employers Refuse.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 17.—An effort to negotiate with the packers an arbitration agreement to take effect September 15, when the present national or district agreement expires, will be made by the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America.

This was decided here today by a conference of officers and delegates of the butcher workmen's union at the conclusion of a three-day session. While the agreement was drafted, it was not made public, but an official statement issued by the workers' executive committee declared that in many particulars it follows along the line of the Alachulac agreement.

FULL POWER TO ACT.

A resolution adopted by the conference contained the agreement and authorized the workers' executive committee to attempt to negotiate it with the packers, with full power to act in case an understanding cannot be reached. This, the committee explained, meant that the executive committee had been given the power to call a strike, if such action was thought necessary.

Before drastic action would be taken by the employees' representatives, however, an appeal to President Harding would be made to appoint an arbitrator to try to adjust any differences standing in the way of an agreement, according to a statement made yesterday by C. J. Hayes, the international president of the butcher workmen's union.

Announcement was made that the workers are ready, if need be, to "fight to protect the wages and working conditions of the men and women who work in the packing industries." The executive committee's statement follows:

COMMITTEE'S STATEMENT.

"The conference came to a conclusion after a resolution containing twenty-six clauses, which had been drawn up by the committee representing all the packing centers of the country, was unanimously adopted. While it is obvious that the full text of the tentative agreement which this resolution contains cannot be given publicity at this time, it might be stated that in many particulars it follows along the lines of the present Alachulac agreement."

"By taking this procedure the conference has gone on record as being flat-footedly in favor of arbitration and has thereby thrown the entire responsibility for any stoppage of production or strike situation entirely on the packers."

"Regarding the serious crisis which is confronting all industry the butcher workers wish to prove at this time their willingness to do anything to help the nation to relieve the situation and encourage a general renewal of prosperity."

READY TO FIGHT.

"This statement should not, however, be construed to mean that the butcher workers are not ready to fight if they have to fight to protect the wages and working conditions of the men and women who work in the packing industries."

"The recent conference was a representative delegation of packing-house workers from all parts of the country and the co-operation which they displayed, and the earnestness with which they tackled the most important task with which they were confronted, is a credit to the organization which they represent."

"The manner in which the tentative agreement will be presented to the packers was left by the conference to the hands of the international executive board with full power to act and by the unanimous vote of the conference was empowered to negotiate the agreement according to their best judgment."

PRAISE ALSCHULER.

"A roll call of delegates proved that the general executive board has the entire confidence and backing of all the packing centers represented and the authority to accept the best agreement possible. The unanimous vote of approval was also given to Federal Judge Samuel Alschuler for his fairness and the impartial manner in which he has acted as arbitrator during the past three years."

"The tentative agreement adopted is to be explained to the butcher workers of the country at mass meetings to be held in all packing-house centers. National officers of the sixteen unions allied with the packers are to be asked to meet with the executive officers of the butcher workers in Chicago, September 1, to arrange the part these unions will play in the effort to induce the packers to accept the terms of the proposed new agreement. The sixteen allied trades include machinists, electricians, metal workers, carpenters, plumbers and others."

NEW YORK COURT DECIDES THAT SECRET HEARINGS MUST COME TO STOP.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.—Trial of all divorce suits in open court as a means of stopping the practice of seeking secret decrees in Westchester county has been decided upon by the Supreme Court justices of the New York State judicial system. This decision of the court, which is expected to be announced today, will be a blow to the "divorce mills" conducted by Herbert F. Miller until it was exposed.

Heretofore a jurist would hear witnesses in chambers, if counsel for the plaintiff and defendant agreed to it, but from now on all such requests will be refused. If any degree of secrecy is desired, the services of a referee can be obtained, provided there is a defense to the allegations. And the jurists also have decided not to order sealed the papers in a divorce suit, as was done by Justice McHugh in the Stillman case.

NEW MAN-HUNT BEGUN IN KENNEDY MURDER CASE.

Passenger on Train is Followed by Wires; Obenchain Declares That Arrest of Slayer Impends.

An entirely new angle to the puzzling murder case of John Belton Kennedy developed late last night when it became known that the Sheriff's office was bending every effort to apprehend a man whose name is not known, but who is said to have left Los Angeles at 8 o'clock last night on a Salt Lake train.

This angle developed, it is understood, after Undersheriff Biscailuz and Special Investigator McLaren returned from Santa Monica, where they interviewed the police relative to the recovery on August 7 of a Mitchell touring car which had been stolen from in front of 9023 Fountain avenue on the night of August 5, the time of the Kennedy murder at Beverly Glen.

On the basis of information secured there and from others whom they interviewed, it is understood that the man who is being sought by the police is said to have left Los Angeles at 8 o'clock last night on a Salt Lake train.

EAGER BUYERS FOR OUR WARES.

Market Week Reflects City's Commercial Growth.

Over Forty Thousand Visitors
See Great Exposition.

Business and Pleasure Most Happily Combined.

[Photographs illustrating this article will be found on the picture page of this issue of The Times.]

Los Angeles, noted as a city for sight-seers, has taken on a new aspect this week—it is now the city for buyers. From every important center in the United States, from the island possessions and even from foreign countries, commercial buyers, representing enormous purchasing power, are visiting Los Angeles and learning of the mighty place the city occupies in the commercial world.

Up to last night, the end of the third day of the big industrial and Trade Exposition and First Annual Market Week, thousands of buyers, representing mercantile establishments of many cities, have visited the city and have purchased Los Angeles-made goods for home consumption. The orders taken at the exposition by the various manufacturing establishments represented there already amount into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. And the exposition is still young.

Tuesday's attendance record of 40,000 visitors to the big exposition was beaten yesterday with an attendance estimated last night by officials in charge at close to 45,000.
Since thousands of these visitors are not natives of Los Angeles, but visitors to the city from other parts of the United States, the fame of the City of the Angels as an industrial center will be carried, not only by the buyers who are here on business, but by these visitors as well.

EYE-OPENER TO ALL.
And for the thousands who claim Los Angeles as their home and who are attending the exposition there is an educational advantage that is bound to benefit the city and the exhibitor, for to many natives
the exposition has been a general eye-opener. They have learned for what the city really stands in a commercial sense.

There has been visualization for them of the enormous scope of the industrial and the great future that their city faces. The local visitor cannot but be impressed by the Los Angeles-made goods—the splendid furniture, the clothing for men,
the toys and children, the high quality materials that go into the making of good homes, the delicious pure food products and the thousands of other things that are made in their own city and used throughout the world, without gaining an increased respect for the city and the industry which has made it a place of such commercial importance.

HOME PRODUCTS EXTOLLED.
One of the outstanding features of yesterday's day at the exposition was the big luncheon given at the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. Exhibitors, buyers and chamber members were seated at the luncheon, which was made up exclusively of products grown or made in Los Angeles.

To each guest was presented a container, much resembling a fiber basket, filled with tempting samples of Los Angeles-made goods and Los Angeles-made household necessities, to say nothing of the bottles of Los Angeles-made refreshments.

Formal recognition of the generosity of the Los Angeles Union Terminal Building for its donation of the huge new warehouse for exposition purposes was given at this luncheon.

Those who attended the luncheon there must have seen a new conception of Los Angeles as a city of commerce. Two addresses, "Los Weaver, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and John E. Caperick, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, must have given the guests a new and a more complete understanding of the city's great commercial standing and of its great potentialities.

FORTY YEARS' GROWTH.
Reviewing the city's growth from 1811, touching on the discovery of oil and the development of other things that have made the city immense, President Weaver arrived at his address at Los Angeles of today.
It is hard to realize what these tremendous figures mean," he said.
"Only by comparison are we able to grasp the city's great industrial advance. In the building industry, for example, there were twelve other great industries which either exceeded or were nearly as much as the amount invested in the building industry."

The speaker enumerated them as follows:
Motion pictures, $150,000,000;
petroleum, $25,000,000; food, $20,000,000;
iron and steel, $20,000,000;
ship building, $10,000,000;
automobiles and trucks, $10,000,000;
wearing apparel, $10,000,000; publishing and printing, $5,000,000;
furniture, $5,000,000; cement,
$5,000,000; brick, cement,
$2,000,000; lumber, mill, $2,000,000;
miscellaneous, $1,000,000.

Female Autoist, Released in Death Case, Now Accused of Reckless Driving.

Rearrested and charged with reckless driving less than five minutes after she had been released by Justice Hinshaw following a preliminary hearing on a manslaughter charge, Lucille Miller, 24 years of age, of Puente, entered a plea of not guilty in Police Judge Crawford's court yesterday and was released under $150 bail. She will appear for trial next Thursday.

According to police records, the young woman ran down and killed
Mrs. Lulu Hamble at Eighth and Fifth streets several weeks ago. Before the fatal accident Mrs. Miller, while driving her automobile at Twenty-third and Figueroa streets, collided with another automobile driven by R. M. Lease of 911 1/2 West Forty-sixth street. Mrs. Lease, who in her husband's automobile, was painfully injured.

In his report to the police Mr.
Lease declared that Mrs. Miller was driving her automobile without any lights and also cut to the wrong lane of a road just before the accident. Mrs. Miller denied the charges made by Mr. Lease.

Yesterday when Mrs. Miller was released by Justice Hinshaw following the preliminary hearing when it developed that the police who arrested her after Mrs. Hamble died were unable to produce any witnesses of the accident, she was released by Police Detective Hawtry, Canto and Traffic Officer Porter on the second day as she stepped from the courtroom.

The bridge and the motor truck

ACTRESS FACES SPEED CHARGE.

Bench Warrant Ordered
When She Fails to Appear.

One Hundred and Forty-four Offenders in Court.

Three Sentenced to Jail; One Refuses to Pay Fine.

Marjorie Prevost, cinema star, sped along Washington Boulevard
at a thirty-eight-mile-an-hour clip.
It seems. She was in a hurry and really did not know how fast she was going. It is said, until an officer told her. The actress was instructed to be in Justice Baird's court yesterday morning. Whether she forgot or thought the officer was joking or the director would not let her off, the fact remains that she did not appear in court, where 144 speeders and violators of the traffic law were arraigned.

Justice Baird, who says all speeders look alike to him, ordered a bench warrant issued for the actress when she failed to respond to her name.

SENTENCED TO JAIL.
The warning of Justice Baird that he would impose a jail sentence on reckless drivers, apparently went over the heads of a number of autoists. He committed three to the County Jail; one went to jail because he refused to pay the $25 fine, and the other 140 paid their fines. The total cash paid the court was $2400.

"Speeding must stop," said Justice Baird. "I mean it, and offenders who cannot show a reasonable excuse will go to jail when by their reckless disregard of the law they endanger lives."

Those who received jail sentences were:
H. A. Carpenter, 1087 Ocean avenue, Long Beach. He was traveling at thirty-eight miles an hour on Long Beach Boulevard; E. F. Saul, 2420 East Fifty-fifth street, charged with speeding at thirty-two miles an hour at Florence and Alameda streets, and C. S. Miller, 210 West Fiftieth street, accused of rate of thirty-one miles an hour at Florence and Alameda streets.
These were crossing ordinance offenses.

REFUSES TO PAY.
J. W. McCoy refused to pay his fine and went to jail for five days.
The jail sentences include imprisonment as well as the payment of fines.
Until they communicated with friends, the offenders were held in the constabulary office. Their friends or relatives brought in the cash and they were released. Mr. Miller paid his fine after he went to jail.

SUES LANDLORD.
A demand for $10,000 damages is made on Liberato Onofrio by Mrs.
Mary Croney in suit filed yesterday. She asserts he struck her on the shoulder and she had to obtain medical attention. The plaintiff was the defendant's tenant.

According to statements made by Allen, he is a member of an old and wealthy Canadian family. He is 20 years of age.

Judge Exonerates Attorney in MacAlpine Squabble.

Judgment is Awarded Lawyer
in Bond Proceedings.

Tales of Dissipation, Orgies
Refuted in Court.

In deciding one angle of the bitter MacAlpine litigation yesterday, Judge J. P. Wood gave Theodore A. Bell, former Democratic candidate for Governor and counsel for Reynolds P. MacAlpine, a clear record in the case. Mr. Bell was charged with many things in the handling of Mr. MacAlpine's affairs by Mrs. Julia MacAlpine. The evidence before the court reeked of dissipation of the part of Mr. MacAlpine, who was paroled to Mrs. Jean MacAlpine; with orgies at the MacAlpine home and failure to pay bills.

The court gave judgment in favor of Mr. Bell, holding that 1410 bonds had been turned over to him as trustee by Mrs. MacAlpine for the use of her husband. She asserted the bonds were her own.

Judge Wood stated that the evidence before him satisfied him beyond any doubt whatever that Mr. Bell made no promises that he did not to the utmost of his ability carry out.

ACTED HONORABLY.

"He acted, the evidence shows, as an honorable lawyer and a gentleman. That much is to be said of a member of the bar who conscientiously performed his duty, not in a litigious spirit, but in a spirit of helpfulness to every one concerned. Unfortunately the case developed a horrible mess, resulting in charges being made against him, however false, which cannot help but mean an irreparable injury. A lawyer must value his reputation for honorable dealing, and if that reputation is once attacked, however grossly unfair or injurious, nothing that he can do can repair the injury."

The court declared that Mrs. MacAlpine, a handsome woman and descendant of Daniel O'Connor, the Irish statesman, in a decisive and vigorous mind, "quite able to take care of herself, better than most women."

The court also said: "I do not think Mr. Bell said at any time that he would 'house' this woman out of the state."

The suit was brought by Mr. Bell against the First National Bank to recover the bonds. Mrs. MacAlpine interpleaded and set up that Mr. Bell was not taking proper care of her husband who was given drinks and allowed to go to Tijuana. The evidence showed that Mrs. MacAlpine gave permission for Mr. MacAlpine to go to San Diego.

TOOK ONE DRINK.

From there he went to Tijuana and the evidence was that he had only one drink while there. It was also testified that Mr. MacAlpine with his attendants had gone to his home with two young women. The name of one was given, a stenographer for Mr. MacAlpine, but the court sustained an objection to the name of the other woman being made known. It was charged that the night was spent in dissipation. The testimony on the part of the attendants was that the party only remained a few minutes and there was no semblance of an orgy.

Attorney Hupp, representing Mrs. MacAlpine, stated that an appeal will be taken from the judgment of the court. She asserts she is penniless and that Mr. MacAlpine is not providing for her.

MacAlpine has so far successfully defended a guardianship action, an insanity proceeding and now a suit to recover bonds.

Brief Romances Broken; Three Seek Divorce.

In three divorce actions filed yesterday the couples are stated to have lived together but three, ten and eleven days, respectively.

Camille Frances Lucero complains that three days after she was married to Charles Lucero on the first day of this month, her husband agreed to meet her at 8 p.m. at Seventh street and Broad way, but failed to appear and has not returned to her. When she interrupted him in a dance with another girl, one of the beaches recently, and asked him for an explanation, he is quoted as having said, "I do not want to be tied to any one girl, and I want to live at home with my parents."

Eleven years have passed since Ruthie Clyde McCorkle and Hugh Lawson McCorkle separated, according to the former's divorce complaint, and the separation took place just eleven days after they were married. She asks a decree on the ground of desertion.

Adelaide H. Rose married L. L. Rose last February 17, and ten days later her dream of happiness came to an end, when her husband was arrested. He was convicted of forgery on July 16, and under the law, her petition for a divorce will be granted on the ground that he has been found guilty of a felony.

WIFE WANTS STOCK.

Seeks Divorce, Says Securities Were Wedding Present.

Ten typewritten pages are filed by the divorce complaint filed yesterday by Lillian P. Edwards against Robert O. Edwards. They were married June 1, 1918, and separated June 30, 1920. There is a 10-year-old daughter, and 15,000 shares of Garrett & Co. stock are at stake. Mrs. Edwards asks the custody of the child; charge that Mr. Edwards kidnapped the daughter and took her to the home of his sister, Mrs. Garrett, in New York, and petitions that the stock in Garrett & Co. be turned over to her, as it was given to her for a wedding present. The complaint states that the defendant is manager of the St. Louis branch of Garrett & Co., and is earning a salary of $3,000 per year.

CHARGES COURT FLEA.

In Judge McCormick's court yesterday Ray Gorman, charged with burglary, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty, and will be up for sentence September 6. At that time his application for probation will be heard.

"I Like to be Loved" Note is Cited in Suit.

"Oh, for love. I like to be loved. I never was loved too much. Hal! I would love to see you and your mother this eve. I know that you both could love and pet me." This portion of a letter cited in a divorce action instituted yesterday by Hulda C. Bonta against Andrew A. Bonta is the prelude of a recounting of various love affairs of the husband. The letter was written to Miss Ona M. Brooks, Marion, Ind., the complainant's sister.

It is also represented that the defendant went to Cameron, W. V. and is purported to have represented himself as a single man and to have made love to Mrs. Vest. When Mr. Vest found the defendant and Mrs. Vest hugging and kissing each other and making love, the complainant charged he ordered the defendant to leave the State and gave him twenty-four hours in which to depart. "And defendant forthwith departed," adds the complaint.

Letters from members of the Vest family are quoted in the action stating that the realization of the facts regarding Mr. Bonta came as a great blow to them, as they had always looked upon him as an upright man. "He was father's best friend, but has proved himself to be his worst enemy for he has wrecked our home," wrote a son of Mr. Vest to Mrs. Bonta, according to the complaint.

MEXICANS FIGHT THREATENED TAX

Farm Organization Opposed to Export Duty.

To Take Up Question With Federal Officer.

Say Enforcement of Order is Breach of Faith.

CALEXICO, Aug. 17.—Prospect that an export duty will be placed on cotton by the northern district of Lower California, as intimated by Gov. Tharras in a communication transmitted to business men of Mexico, has aroused a storm of protest from scores of ranchers, bankers and others connected with the cotton industry in Lower California, and a special meeting of the Camara Agraria, the Mexican Agricultural Society, is being held tonight to discuss the question and draft a protest against the collection of the tax.

Protest against the export tax is based upon assurances given at Mexico City several months ago that both the Federal and State governments of Mexico would collect no duty on numerous imports and exports connected with the agricultural industry below the line, and that because of these assurances a large amount of money was advanced for financing the cotton crops.

The growers claim that any export duty, however small, would work an irreparable injury to the cotton industry, and in many instances cause them to lose money instead of showing a profit from this year's crops. Many of the growers expect to make a small margin of profit if the present market price holds until the picking season is over, but those who have expressed an opinion regarding the proposed export duty are agreed that the margin is too small to permit of the payment of a duty.

The fate of the cotton industry in Lower California hung in the balance for many weeks last spring, while a commission of local bankers presented the facts to the Federal authorities at Mexico City in an effort to obtain relief for the growers, by encouraging the financial interests to advance money for handling the crops.

The Mexican officials agreed that duties should be cut to a minimum on cotton and eliminated entry charge on many other products. Ranchers say that it was because of this agreement that many of the cotton growers put their lands in cotton again this year.

Included in the membership of the Camara Agraria are Americans, Mexicans, Chinese and Japanese, representing every branch of the agricultural industry in Lower California, and a special meeting of the Camara Agraria, the Mexican Agricultural Society, is being held tonight to discuss the question and draft a protest against the collection of the tax.

First Grape Shipment to East Coast.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 17.—El Cajon, the grape district of the southern end of San Diego county, sent the first shipment of grapes to the East yesterday.

The carload, which went to New York consisted of 715 lug boxes of twenty-five pounds net each, and was muscled all picked from the Thatcher vineyard at Jamacha. The crop will be from 85 to 90 per cent of that of last year the growers say, but the quality of the fruit is higher.

Last year 134 cars of grapes were shipped from the El Cajon district over the San Diego and Arizona road to New York. Shipping points inspection established by the State Department of Agriculture will be given its first trial in San Diego county at El Cajon this week. The inspection is to be given the grapes from the Riley vineyard of 100 acres. The State law requires a minimum of 17 per cent sugar for muscled samples tested from here show from 17 to 20 1/2 per cent.

FIND WIFE OF LOST HUSBAND.

FRESNO, Aug. 17.—Nearly fourteen years after he had disappeared from their home in Illinois, A. W. Swanson, "long dead" husband of Mrs. Harry M. Beman, 511 Mildred street, Fresno, has reappeared to claim his estate, which is said to have been settled in the courts of that State.

Mrs. Beman said at her home here today, that the story from Joliet was true, but that the estate amounted to only a few hundred dollars.

While declining to amplify the facts, Mrs. Beman said that her former husband disappeared in 1909 from Chicago. She married Harry Beman in 1915, and has been making her home in Fresno for several years.

INQUEST TO BRING OUT FACTS.

Father of Dead Infant Says Absence of Light Caused Fatal Accident.

PASADENA, Aug. 17.—Whether H. A. Bouldin of San Bernardino was carrying proper lights on his motor truck when he collided with the automobile of George Haas, Jr., of Pasadena on the highway between Pueno and El Monte last Friday night, will be one of the points to be determined at an inquest here tomorrow morning on the death of Wallace Haas, 8 months old baby, killed in the crash.

Coroner Nance was here this afternoon, taking the deposition at Pasadena Hospital of George Haas, Jr., who is still confined there because of his injuries. Mrs. Haas and their little daughter, Marjorie, also were injured. The infant son died a few minutes after the accident.

Haas, who is a well known semi-professional baseball player and athlete of Pasadena, told Coroner Nance today that Bouldin's truck was not carrying proper lights.

The Coroner indicated that witnesses who would testify on this point had been subpoenaed to appear at the inquest.

Funeral services for the child were held this afternoon, but burial will not take place until after the inquest.

Bouldin is understood to be in India, but it is hoped to have him here tomorrow. Before leaving for India he informed county authorities investigating the accident that the Haas family had been on an approaching truck and that there was not space enough to avoid a collision.

Censors Enjoy Varied Views of Studioland
Manner of diversions from animal circus to a carnival of dance was enjoyed by the picture censors who are the guests of Carl Laemmle, of the Universal Film Manufacturing Company, today. The day was given over to pleasures, with the exception of a brief meeting between the producers and the censors in the afternoon at Beverly Hills Hotel, at which the furtherance of the plan for co-operation in securing pictures was discussed.
At Universal City the visitors held the Universal animals through their paces under the vision of A. C. Maccher, the censor. They also watched the work on picture production. The evening was given over to dances at Sunset Inn, at which the censors were honor guests.
Today the visitors will enjoy the carnival of the West at Carey's ranch, and in the evening will be announced the Von Stroheim production "Foolish Wives" at a private preview.

Up-to-Date.
The "matinee bracelet," so termed because, like the pendant of jade or amber or carved ivory worn on a black silk cord, it is designed as the accompaniment of informal dress and forms the finish, par excellence, of the sports costume. In its most favored form the bracelet matches one of the styles of pendants mentioned above and has an adjustable slide of gold or platinum to regulate the wrist size.

A sweater of finest wool in the rosy-red known as paprika, striped in black. There is much fullness on the shoulders of this brilliant garment which reaches almost to the knees and has a long three-quarter length neck slash. Scarf, belt and pockets are heavily fringed in black.

Denier not in smart foot-wear are the sports shoes of black suede, trimmed in patent leather. They are offered in type with rather lower heels than the type of the past season have shown and they have substantial soles that project a bit. Their mission, of course, is to give the touch ultimate to the fashionable black and white sports outfit.

Now is the Time to Buy.
The fur coat, clothe or neck piece which will form the core of your wardrobe through the months of autumn and winter will be in the store of next year. The woman who aspires to dress well and becomingly, albeit on a limited income and who has given thought to the subject, will be the first to tell you that no investment is wiser, in the long clothes-run, than that represented in the purchase of a piece of good fur. Whether your particular need is for a modest choker or a warmly enveloping wrap of Hudson seal, collar in gray squirrel or velvet lining, you will find it at that notable suburban store, one mile of the year now in progress.

The long-desired rug of best grade and most covetted coloring, the present prices hold good at that great seventh-street emporium of the beautiful in wearables, the house furnishings. The rug that has behind it a record of lifetime wear, quality and on the reverse side of which is a corner of a world renowned factory. It is many a quiet back since carpets of equal value were to be had at today's figures.

High Colors in Headgear.
The hats of autumn suggest, strikingly, the thoughts that blossom in purple and red. For they are almost sure to be developed in either purple or red, and not infrequently, these two principal colors, toned down until they blend delicately, are found in combination. Stop the somberness of the black or dark blue costume with a hat of one-piece dress-upon which the handle of fall fashion has descended, these chic bits of headgear burst forth with the brilliant unexpectedness of exotic flowers surprised in the depths of a dark forest.

Both reds and purples come forth for identification under a host of new names. The former, when they shade into that yellow-flame which, in our uncomely, small days we called "burnt orange," becomes "sagebrush" or "paradise" depending upon the intensity of redness. Softening the yellow of the flame with American Beauty produces "patriotic" and "patriotic" are, in fact, to occur a front and back of French fashion show of hats. A dash of brown to the dab of red on the palette gives "Etruscan," as a result, a shade of brown, with all richness of hue cast out, is known as "Liberty."

WHY DO WE JUMP AT SUDDEN NOISES?

The phrase "reflex action" which is generally used to explain the involuntary jumping or starting at an unexpected sound sounds quite scientific and involved, but, in reality, is nothing more than the element of surprise—for any reflex action is dependent upon this, as may be proved by a simple experiment. A person seated with their back to a door will almost certainly jump if the door is slammed suddenly, particularly if they had not been expecting the noise. But place them in front of the door, where they can watch it, and the involuntary start will not come, though the sound is the same in both cases. The reaction is to be noted in the case of a joke, where laughter replaces the jumping movement, as a reflex action. A good joke, the first time we hear it, is productive of hearty laughter. The second time the element of surprise is lessened and the laugh is not so sustained while, if the joke is repeated frequently, it ceases to be even momentarily amusing, for "know the point of it" or, in other words, we aren't surprised at what was formerly an unexpected conclusion.

In the case of the slamming of the door, however, the noise makes a sudden impression upon the nerves which transmit sound to the brain and the muscles of the body respond involuntarily with a quick, emphatic jerk. The more nervous or highly strung the person is, the more the reflex action and there are cases on record where this involuntary movement of the muscles, due to nothing more than a loud and unexpected noise, has been sufficient to cause the heart to stop beating and thereby bring an instant death. Tomorrow, when you hear the word "Amen" at the end of prayers, say "Amen" at the end of prayers!

FIRE CONQUERED.Flames Near Lytle Creek Are Under Control, Assists
Reserve Supervisor.Supervisor Allen of the Angels Forest Reserve
reported yesterday that the fire near Lytle Creek, which was the most destructive of the present season, having burned over 3000 acres of land, has at last been conquered.One of the features of the fire was the burning of an automobile driven into the district by William Hutchinson, foreman of the Bullock ranch at Riverside. He had taken a load of fire engines and provisions into the fire zone and was ordered by the flames. He was compelled to abandon the car and was severely burned while escaping.The damage to the government telephone lines in the vicinity of the fire is estimated at $2500.Garvey to Vote on Annexation
of School Zone.Tomorrow at the Garvey grammar school, between the hours of 1 a.m. and 4 p.m., the residents of Garvey will determine by ballot whether they will annex their school district to Alhambra or El Monte.A hot campaign has been conducted by rival groups favoring the different propositions, and lively balloting is expected.Garvey lies to the east of Coyote Pass, and almost due south from Alhambra. County Superintendent of Schools Keppel has recommended that the Board of Supervisors annex the Garvey school district to the Alhambra school district, but not all of the Garvey folk are in accord with his plan.There are about 1800 people in the Garvey district. There has been a good grammar school there for years, but students desiring high school opportunities have had to go to Alhambra or El Monte.Mr. Keppel says that most of them attend the Alhambra school, and that it seems the better district for Garvey to embrace, because of its more favorable geographic location, although the tax rate in Alhambra is a little higher than it is in El Monte.The Alhambra district has agreed to gather up the Garvey pupils each day in his auto buses, and transport them to and from the school.
Mr. Keppel says that if the district were annexed to El Monte many of the pupils would have to walk or drive some distance to an inter-bus line in order to reach school.The National Dental

Fine Furs at 25% Less

—As you may imagine from the extensiveness of this array of furs, the choice of peltries and of styles is delightfully wide—as a matter of fact, I spent some weeks in the New York markets, searching for fur garments for this sale. There I was fortunate in securing a wonderful array of furs that reach The MAYOR TO NAME NEW BODY SOON.

Council to Get Social Service Commission Personnel.

Appointment of Harbor Board Members to Follow.

Cryer Seeks to Fill Public Works Vacancy.

Mayor Cryer is expected to send to the City Council the latter part of this week, or early next week, for confirmation of the appointments of five new members of the Social Service Commission, thus making the first clean sweep by the mayor in any of the municipal boards since the reorganization of the Board of Police Commissioners. President D. Joseph Coyne and the other four members of the present Social Service Commission, most of whom were appointees of former Mayor Snyder, tendered their resignations to the mayor after the election. The Alliance of Social Agencies, which represents in its membership all the organized charities of the city, has urged Mayor Cryer to appoint an entire new board, and among the names presented by the alliance for appointment to the commission was that of Prof. Henry E. Boardman of the University of Southern California, but it is probable that Prof. Boardman will not be selected.

HARBOR BOARD NEXT.
The appointment of the new Social Service Commission will be followed by the announcement early next week of the appointment of the three members of the new Board of Harbor Commissioners, which has been waiting since the Mayor took office on July 4. The ordinance establishing the salary of the president of the board at $100 a year, and the compensation of the other two members at $10 for each meeting they attend, takes effect next Monday, and the Mayor will send the appointments to the Council either on Tuesday or Wednesday. While the Mayor has decided upon the three men whom he is to appoint, he has not made public their names and will not do so until the appointments are sent to the Council.

W. M. Humphreys, former member of the harbor board, and of the Board of Public Works, whose name has been frequently mentioned as a possible selection for the harbor board or for the vacant place on the Board of Public Works, has been eliminated. But that does not mean, as is believed, Mr. Humphreys himself having stated that he is not a candidate.

CORONER ISSUES WARNING.

Punishment May Follow Failure to Report Cases of Sudden Death, He Says.

"Continued disregard of the law relative to sudden death impels me to register an appeal to the public in this matter," said Coroner Nance yesterday. "Investigations are being made of several cases where the coroner's office was not notified and bodies have been removed and effects taken from them, all of which has been in violation of the law. There is but one procedure to follow in cases of sudden death, such as suicide, murder, accident resulting in death and similar incidents, and that procedure is to at once notify the coroner whose duty it is to remove the body or provide for such removal. "It may be necessary to have somebody into court and make an example of the apparent disregard of the provisions of the law governing coroners' cases. If there is any doubt, always notify this office. Be sure you are right, then go ahead and advise here as well as in any other legal procedure."

UNNECESSARY WORK.
Coroner Nance states that his office is being caused much unnecessary work by failure of the public to follow the established procedure. "With $600 square miles of territory to cover and a population of 1,000,000 people, the jurisdiction of this office certainly has our troubles," he adds. "The personnel of this office is just half the size of that in the coroner's office in San Francisco, and the demands are practically double."

cial Service Commission affords the harbor board out of the way. Mayor will give his attention to the selection of a member of the Board of Public Works to succeed P. F. O'Brien, who resigned to become acting mayor of Los Angeles. "Friends of former Mayor and former Public Works Commissioner Owen McAleer have been active on his behalf, but strong opposition to Mr. McAleer's appointment has developed, and unless conditions change it is considered most improbable that the former Mayor will be chosen for the place recently held by Mr. O'Brien."

Mooring Lack May Prevent Balloon Tour.

That ZP-1, the great dirigible balloon recently purchased abroad by the United States government, may be found to be too large to undertake a sightseeing trip about the country was indicated yesterday in a letter received by Mayor Cryer from Acting Secretary of the Navy Theo-odore Roosevelt. On receipt of the news that the dirigible might be sent on a cruise over the United States, Mayor Cryer asked that Los Angeles be included in the tour, but Acting Secretary Roosevelt's letter states that while the trip is under consideration, the dirigible will not be forgotten if the itinerary is mapped out the trip looks doubtful now on account of apparent inability to find adequate mooring places throughout the country for a balloon of the tremendous size of the ZP-1.

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 17.—Marriage licenses were issued here today to Ory E. Clutter, 45, and Margaret McCampbell, 45, residents of Los Angeles, and John M. Beggs, 34, resident of Los Angeles and Eva H. Merickel, 25, resident of Waller.

JAILED AS DRUG PEDDLERS.
Convicted of having attempted to sell narcotics to soldiers at Los Angeles Harbor, "Sonny" Johnson and John Washington, both colored, were sentenced to six months each in the City Jail. The negroes were arrested on Central avenue when they were pointed out by soldiers from the Bay District.

FOUND GUILTY BY JURY.
William A. Williams, colored, was found guilty of assault by a jury in Judge Rees's court yesterday. He will be sentenced next Monday.

PLAN URGED TO PUT END TO STRIKES.

Builders to Hear Official Explain Public Mediation Proposal.

Advocating a plan for public mediation in threatened labor disputes, P. H. Scullin, secretary and manager of the National Industrial Peace and Educational Association, will address a meeting this afternoon of the Builders' Association, in the Douglas Building. Mr. Scullin is enlisting the support of Los Angeles citizens with a view of establishing a branch of the association here after the State convention in Sacramento, September 28 and 29. At that time plans will be formed for "legislative enactment that will forever put an end to the present practice of strikes by unscrupulous leaders."

According to the constitution of the association, the purpose of the organization is to promote industrial peace. No director receives compensation. "All boards of directors of this association," the constitution provides, "shall use their good offices in conciliation, and in harmonizing all disputes and differences between employer and employee. Should the efforts of any board in this direction to meet with success, then it shall endeavor to have the dispute submitted to an arbitration committee selected by the contending parties, and tender its good offices in the selection of such committee, whether from among its own members or otherwise."

"Should either party to a dispute refuse to accept the good offices of the association, the president or the next available officer is in duty bound to immediately call a meeting of the directors of this association, and by resolution call a public meeting of the citizens, and place all facts learned in relation to the said dispute before the meeting and thus bring public opinion to bear upon the party refusing arbitration."

FILM FIRM BANKRUPT.

Receiver Named for Union Company With Studio at Sherman.

On the petition of I. A. Grove, R. B. Bryant and A. A. Barnett, creditors of the Union Film Company, who assert they have advanced to the corporation various sums of money, Judge Tripp yesterday appointed Kyle Z. Grainger receiver of the concern, under a bond of $1000. "The Union Film Company," a studio at Sherman. The debt of the corporation amount to $21,350.70, of which $18,625.70 is unsecured. The assets are said to be $5046.64, and of this amount the value of the real estate is said to be $2000.

DRIVEN TO JAIL BY CONSCIENCE.

Attempt at Robbery Here Confessed by Man Who Gives Self Up.

Troubled conscience over a futile attempt at safe-cracking in Los Angeles apparently proved the Nemesis that caused Richard Vega, aged 21, to surrender yesterday at police headquarters in Seattle, Wash.

Telling the police that his conscience had driven him to make a confession, Vega said it was he who tried to rob the safe of the Southwestern Dairy Company of Los Angeles about three months ago. He had been in trouble about the sale of a motorcycle, he told the police, and had tried to gain entrance to the safe by using an acetylene torch in order to get money to "square matters" on the sale. Local detectives who investigated the robbery were unable to find any record of a warrant for Vega having been issued. Yost Luchsinger, one of the dairy owners, said last night Vega was in the firm's employ at the time of the attempted robbery.

COAST IS FRONTIER.

Rowell Calls California Border Between White and Yellow Races.

That California is the natural frontier between the white and yellow races and that this frontier should be maintained forever, was declared by Chester H. Rowell, member of the State Railroad Commission, speaking yesterday before the members of the City Club at their noon luncheon. Mr. Rowell has recently returned from the Orient, and his talk was devoted to his observations while in the Far East. He expressed the belief that by helpful, co-operative efforts of the people of this country as well as of those of Japan and China, the frontier can be peacefully maintained.

BY GRANTON S. WILCOX.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—The Senate today voted to direct its committee on the Judiciary to investigate the conduct of Wayne B. Wheeler, former head of the National Association of Manufacturers, in his efforts to secure the repeal of the Volstead act.

Wheeler, who was defeated in his bid for the presidency of the National Association of Manufacturers, was accused of having used improper means to secure the repeal of the Volstead act, including the use of bribery and other illegal methods.

The Senate's action was a direct result of a report by the committee on the Judiciary, which had been investigating Wheeler's activities for some time. The report stated that Wheeler had used "unlawful means" to secure the repeal of the Volstead act, and that he had "violated the law" in the process.

The Senate's action was a significant blow to Wheeler and his supporters, who had been working hard to secure the repeal of the Volstead act. It also demonstrated the Senate's commitment to investigating and exposing illegal activities in the process of securing the repeal of the Volstead act.

7-Piece Carolean Dining Set Priced in Mahogany—at $177.00
This Set in Jacobean Oak Priced at $165.00

This worthy Dining Set was designed exclusively for Barker Bros. The pattern is a modification of an old English design of the seventeenth century.

The set consists of the oblong Dining Table, 5 Side Chairs and 1 Arm Chair.

The table top, when closed, measures 45 inches by 54 inches, and it may be extended to 6 feet. The chair seats are covered in genuine blue leather. Brown leather or tapestry may be selected if desired.

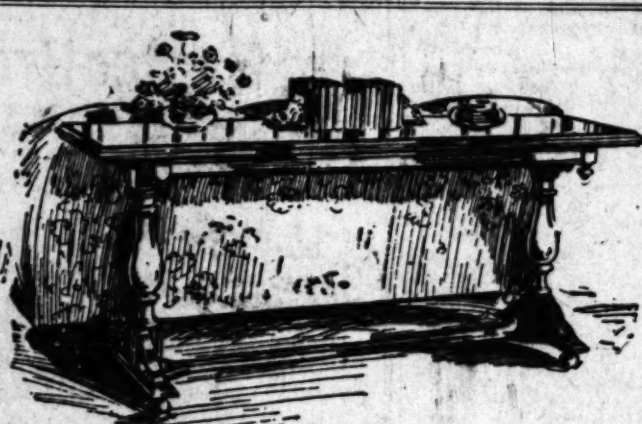

This, you will agree, is a truly unusual value; but it is only one of many such values in the immense sale assortment of Dining-room Furniture.
